FRENCH REPULSE ADVANCE OF GERMANS

Germany Is Ordered To Disarm Warships In Eastern Waters

Japan Also Orders Germany to Dismantle Kiau-Chau Forts—Germany Must Turn Colony Over to Japan Pending Its Return to China. Germany Given Until August 23 to Yield. The Ultimatum Means Japan Will Fight Germany.

Tokio, August 16.—(2:30 p. m.)—Japan has sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding that she withdraw her warships and evacuate Kiau-Chau. Unless Germany unconditionally accepts by August 23, Japan will take action. This is official.

AMPLE SAFEGUARDS PROMISED BY JAPAN TO UNITED STATES

Tokio Assures Washington That Every American Interest in the Far East Will Be Protected.

INTEGRITY OF CHINA GUARANTEED BY JAPAN

Washington Regards Assurances Given by Japan as Satisfactory—Germany Approached Washington Regarding Situation.

Washington, August 16.—Japan's ultimatum to Germany was received by American officials as one of the gravest developments in the war situation, bringing for the first time the great military power of the Far East into a range of conflict heretofore confined within Europe.

The announcement of the ultimatum demanding withdrawal of the German fleet from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiau-Chau was fully confirmed in official and diplomatic circles received here. The American government has been informed of what has been done, and has received assurances from Japan that every American interest will be amply safeguarded. The Japanese embassy, while reticent, is known to be fully advised as to what has occurred, and to be in constant communication with Tokyo. Ambassador China, conferred with Secretary Bryan tonight and made the official announcement.

Features of New Issue.
The salient features in this new and grave issue, made known through authoritative sources, are: Japan's action was taken on the proposal of Great Britain, and after full conferences which led to the determination that the Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance applied to the present situation; the two allies, Great Britain and Japan, are therefore co-operating in the action now in progress.

Japan's ultimatum is in the first instance a fulfillment of her part in the Anglo-Japanese alliance, but it is designed also, an issue having arisen, to terminate Germany's control of Kiau-Chau, which Japan holds, endangers the integrity of China and the peace of the Orient.

The Far East situation for several days has been regarded by officials as a delicate one. Almost simultaneously with the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, China appealed to the American government expressing the hope that she might rely on the previous policy of the United States as an influence against the violation of her neutrality. Heligoland, German Naval Base in North Sea

1. HELIGOLAND LIGHTHOUSE. 2. GERMAN TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER.

Heligoland is an island of rock in the North sea, about 46 miles northwest of the mouth of the Elbe and Weser rivers. It stands about 260 feet above the sea, and there is a little village of pilots and fishermen on it and a lighthouse. This island, which plays an important part in the present North sea situation, was owned by England from 1807 until 1890, when Germany bought it for the establishment of a royal biological station. Germany now has it as a naval base. The island is guarded by fast torpedo boat destroyers of the type shown in the picture. These war craft are capable of standing up against the strain of wild seas.

BOY OF 18 KILLED BY CHURCH WINDOW

John Telford Is Victim of Peculiar Accident While on His Way to Sunday School.

John Telford, an 18-year-old music pupil and choir leader, had reached the Central Presbyterian church on Washington street, across from the capitol, Sunday morning en route to Sunday school with a group of boy companions, when his head struck a revolving window that projected over the sidewalk.

He was knocked to the flagstones and rendered unconscious. He was removed to his home at 46 East Mitchell street, where attending physicians did not believe the injury serious. Later in the afternoon, however, it was discovered that he had sustained concussion of the brain.

Shortly before midnight he died. He had never regained consciousness. The funeral will be held in the Central Presbyterian Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. Dunbar Ogden officiating. The dead boy was a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Telford, formerly of Gainesville, Ga., who reside at 46 East Mitchell.

He was a member of the Central Presbyterian church, and was bound for Sunday school when the accident occurred. He had turned his head to speak to one of his companions when he struck the projecting window.

He was a pupil of Professor Joseph McClain, instructor in music of Agnes Scott college, and, in the absence of Professor McClain from the city this summer, he was put in charge of the Central Presbyterian choir.

The superintendent of the Central Presbyterian Sunday school has requested that the school attend the funeral in a body.

He was 18 years old, and is survived by three sisters, Misses Margaret and Ethel Telford, and Mrs. J. E. Hallie, and two brothers, J. L. and Robert Telford. He resided at 46 East Mitchell street.

HOTEL GUEST SHOT OVER A DICE GAME

H. T. Rutland Accuses Jack Anderson of Wounding Him After Quarrel Over Settlement of Winnings.

Occupants of downtown hotels had just settled themselves down to the customary Sunday afternoon nap, shortly before 3 o'clock, when three pistol shots were fired in rapid succession. They came from the top floor of the Ansley, but for a considerable while searchers were unable to trace their source.

H. A. Beardsley, of 239 West Thirty-ninth street, New York, who occupied a room on the twelfth story, heard the shots and ran down the hallway. He passed room 1,227 when he heard unmistakable sounds of groaning. He broke into No. 1,227 and found Henry T. Rutland, of Fort McPherson, lying across the bed, bleeding from a bullet wound in the leg and another in the hand.

Shot Over Dice Winnings.
Rutland had been shot by a man he knew as Jack Anderson, of Gainesville, Fla., in a quarrel over a dice game of Saturday afternoon, for the winnings of which the two men had met to settle in Rutland's room in the Ansley.

Anderson escaped. No one saw him take flight. The wounded man was carried to Grady hospital, where it is reported his wounds are not dangerous.

A telegram blank was found on the dresser. It was filled with figures, which were added up in the form of a gamblers' score. A sum of $651 and $85 was the sum total. A Smith &

TWO BADLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Five Young Men Tossed From Machine When It Turns Turtle, Pinning Two Occupants Underneath.

When a big seven-passenger automobile turned completely over, while speeding at the rate of 20 miles an hour, late Sunday afternoon on St. Charles avenue, near the corner of Beuna Vista avenue, five prominent Atlanta young men narrowly missed death.

They were Curry H. Moon, assistant manager of the American Can company, of 25 East Ninth street; Dixon McCarty, of 655 Piedmont avenue; Elwin Tomlinson, of 371 Ponce DeLeon avenue; Vernon McMillan, of 29 East Fourteenth street, and M. L. Brittain, Jr., of 645 West Peachtree street. They were returning from the East Lake Country club.

Ditched His Machine.
Dixon McCarty was driving the machine, and as he neared Beuna Vista avenue, Rev. L. E. Barton, of 210 St. Charles avenue, started his automobile to running from the left side of the street. Not seeing the fast speeding machine, the preacher turned his car into the middle of the street. McCarty, when he saw the car was only about 50 feet away, and in order to prevent a head-on collision, swerved quickly to the right, going too far, and ditching his car in the gully.

The heavy machine started a telephone pole, tilted over on its right side, hesitated a moment, and then turned a complete somersault, spilling its occupants in every direction.

McCarty and Curry Moon were riding on the front seat, and as they made a dive to clear the car, they were pinned underneath it. The right rear wheel struck Moon in the chest, breaking three ribs. His kneecap was dislocated, and the doctors at the Grady hospital, where he was rushed in the emergency ambulance for medical attention, fear that he is seriously injured internally.

Gets Broken Collarbone.
McCarty received a broken right collarbone, and both were knocked unconscious.

Tomlinson, McMillan and Brittain were rendered unconscious for the moment, but otherwise than receiving severe bruises and cuts, escaped injury. They managed to jump far enough from the machine to escape being pinned underneath it.

Dr. Barton and several other eyewitnesses of the accident rushed to the aid of the injured young men and lifted the automobile off the unconscious forms of McCarty and Moon.

Brilliant Charges By French Forces Stop the Germans

London, August 17.—(6:40 a. m.)—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company from Nish, Serbia, under date of Sunday says:

"A naval battle between French and Austrian warships began off Budua, Austria, in the Adriatic, at 9 o'clock this morning. The French squadron, coming from the southwest, attacked the Austrian warships. Two Austrian ironclads were sunk, one was set on fire, and a fourth fled northward toward Cattaro. The fight lasted over an hour."

While the German forces are pushing forward through the valley of the Meuse and still more extensive operations are in progress along the Alsace-Lorraine frontier, where the French and German armies are in contact, Japan has sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding the withdrawal of German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiau-Chau, a German protectorate in China.

This territory comprises an area of 200 square miles, with 200 square miles additional in the bay. Tsing-Tau, the seat of the governor of the territory, is the port where the German warships mobilized at the outbreak of hostilities.

Japan's ultimatum gives Germany until August 23 to comply with the demands. Owing to cable interruptions, however, Japan has not been able to deliver the ultimatum to Germany, and it is announced from Washington that the United States will undertake this task.

Peking reports that three British regiments have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to go aboard transports, and it is presumed they will co-operate with the Japanese land forces, if force of arms is resorted to.

In Tokio the Japanese ultimatum has created a deep impression and the Japanese premier and foreign minister have counselled the Japanese to maintain a calm attitude.

Late dispatches report an offensive movement by the French from Luneville to Sarrebourg, but this is considered as merely an outpost affair.

At state of siege has been proclaimed in Bulgaria.

The United States cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina, bearing gold for Americans in Europe, have arrived at Falmouth.

Despite Repeated Bloody Repulses German Legions Are Still Moving Forward to a Decisive Engagement

London, August 16.—(11:20 p. m.)—Despite repeated repulses the German battalions continue to move forward for a decisive encounter, which cannot be delayed much longer.

While there has been a lull in the fighting in northern Belgium, the invaders are sweeping along the valley of the Meuse, south of Namur, and have reached Dinant, where part of a strong French force, which is established behind that town, took the offensive and defeated them.

The incident shows that the French crossed the Belgian frontier to join hands with their allies not a moment too soon. All along the Alsace-Lorraine frontier advance guards of the two opposing armies have come into contact, and according to French official reports, the Germans have been driven back everywhere with loss.

French Hold Mountain Passes.
Strong French forces are in possession of all the passes of the Vosges mountains, from the west, as far as those leading down to Colmar. Further east, the French are ready to proceed over the flat country toward Mulhausen.

The French have taken the offensive along the front, and as they made a victory in encounters. But these have had little effect on the general result unless the Servians compel the Austrians to send stronger forces in an attempt to subdue them.

Austria is preparing to resist an attack on her Adriatic shores, which possibly will be undertaken by the joint Anglo-French fleet.

It is explained that a state of siege, which has been proclaimed in Bulgaria, simply is a precautionary measure so the country will be prepared in an emergency.

Secrecy Vets Every Move.
While Japan has borrowed most of her military science from Europe, she taught the west, in return, the value of secrecy in warfare. All the powers engaged in the European death struggle have learned that lesson.

Reports from Belgium say German prisoners have been instructed to refuse information as to what regiments they are attached. In 1870 the English newspapers gave full accounts of the German and French regiments, where they were, and into positions which composed each army. The commands and personalities of all the leading generals were widely known.

Over all these details the armies engaged in the war theater in western Europe, except perhaps the Belgians, have folded a shroud of mystery concerning the men who will play the greatest parts in the drama. The public knows almost nothing about the commander-in-chief of the French army, General Joseph J. C. Joffre, who is not an advertising general. Even the French people know less about their military machine, which has proved one fact—that even the German organization, when put to the test under real war conditions, could move as fast as expected.

Great Battle May Be Beginning.
The great swift battle on the French frontier, which was due last week, has not begun, so far as is known—or perhaps it may be beginning today.

Not even the Japanese were able to cover their movements with such a cloud of secrecy as the millions of men now marching on the greatest scale the world has ever known.

The censorship, which has been drawn around Europe except for a few outlying neutral countries, is chiefly responsible for the success of this up-to-date military secrecy. No telegram, private or for newspapers, goes out of any belligerent country without passing under the eye and the pencil of a keen censor. Germany and Austria aimed to have sealed the other usual means of communication. British newspapers discuss the war more freely than the continental press, but under the imperative request of the war office they say nothing of the movements of troops or ships. The German newspapers, according to reports, print only official news. The war correspondents to take the field, but under strict rules. The French staff prohibits correspondents at the front from using the telegraph. The Russian army will have no correspondents. The German staff is known strongly to disapprove of them.

French Birdmen Fly Over Metz And Drop Bombs on Fortress In Face of Storm of Bullets

Paris, August 16.—(4:10 p. m.)—Details of a daring exploit at Metz, carried out by French military aviators, were given today in an official communication issued by the war office, which says:

"At 5:30 on Friday evening Lieutenant Cesari and Corporal Prudhomme, flying in separate aeroplanes, left the French fortress of Verdun with orders to reconnoiter, and, if possible, to destroy the dirigible balloon shed in the German fortress at Metz.

"Lieutenant Cesari flew over the fortress at a height of nearly 9,000 feet, while Corporal Prudhomme remained at the lower altitude of about 6,000 feet. A terrific fire was directed on the two aviators from the fortress guns, and during the fusillade the motor of the lieutenant's aeroplane stopped. As he did not wish to fail in his mission, he began to volplane, and, while doing this, threw a bomb with marvelous coolness. Shortly afterward he succeeded in getting his motor started again.

"Hurled His Bomb.

"In the meanwhile the corporal had hurled his projectile also.

"The smoke over the city prevented the aviators seeing whether they had been successful, but they believed they had achieved their purpose and flew away amid a rain of shells from quick-firing guns. They returned safely to Verdun."

The official communication continues:

"Belgian and German troops were reported to be fighting today near Dinant to the south of Namur. Belgium. French troops also were in the vicinity.

"More than 500 German soldiers were taken prisoners by the French when they occupied a number of mountains in the vicinity of Donon, or Rougemont, on the border of German Lorraine Friday.

"The Dutch troops in the Netherlands provinces of North Brabant and Limburg are showing discontent against the Germans, whom they accuse of being responsible for the actual situation. Dutch officers are finding difficulty in controlling their men."

French Drive the Germans.

"Further tales of the fighting around Balmont and Ciry-Sur-Vesouze are given today in the French dispatch from the Meuse-et-Moselle, show the Germans were strongly entrenched behind earthworks near Balmont when, Friday evening, the French divisions began their attack. The German outposts repulsed the French, who, at daybreak the following day, resumed the offensive, supported by artillery. They succeeded during the afternoon in taking Balmont and Ciry. The German troops then occupied the heights to the north; from there they were also driven. The German casualties were severe.

"All the German and Austrian subjects resident in Morocco have been expelled by French authorities, and it is alleged they have extended their intrigues with the natives since the beginning of the war.

"The transportation of troops and provisions in France prevents, for the moment, the resumption of normal railroad traffic, but later it will be possible to increase the number of trains.

Brutality Charged to Germans.

"The German troops, while evacuating a number of villages in southern Alsace, committed many acts of brutality. Our troops found many houses burned and corpses riddled with bullets in the streets, notably at Dannemarie, near Altkirch, in southern Alsace."

A dispatch from Rome received by the Havas agency today, says The Tribune asserts it has learned from a good source that Greece has decided to demand explanations in Constantinople about the mobilization of the Turkish troops on the frontier of Thrace, and that if the Turkish government's reply is not satisfactory, Greece will mobilize her army.

At Belgrade, Jean Cruppi, former French minister of justice, has gathered together hundreds of children of poor reservists now at the front railroads, and has taken care of them in his estate while the hostilities last.

Germans Retired in Disorder.

An official note issued by the war office confirms the report of a battle today at Dinant, Belgium. It says: "A division of German cavalry, supported by a number of battalions, attacked Dinant today. The French cavalry repulsed the German troops, who were retired in disorder."

The French troops captured some hundreds of German cavalry horses, and the high spirits of the French troops greatly encouraged the Belgians."

An official dispatch issued today says:

The French have succeeded in driving further back the Bavarian corps which already had retreated near Ciry. German taken prisoners after the battle at Magienne and Billom declared the French fire demoralized them. A number of German soldiers asserted that they sought to be taken. Some of the Germans declared the war absurd, and said it had been caused in numerous cities. All the prisoners complained of being badly fed."

London, August 16.—(3:25 a. m.)—The Daily Mail's Copenhagen correspondent sends the following under date of August 15:

"A traveler from Berlin says the city is completely isolated from the outside world. No mail has arrived in a fortnight from England, Russia, France or Belgium. Newspapers, mails and telegraphic information from Austria are received only once a week. The Scandinavian mails arrived last Friday with the latest newspapers and the greatest surprise was caused by reports of German defeats in Belgium, especially at the Belgians' victories at the Liege forts."

"A mark was gladly paid for a half penny newspaper to get independent reports of what was happening."

"Berlin was unusually quiet, the traveler said. No visitors were visible and foreign languages were not heard. Night revels had ceased and dancing halls were closed. The city at night was in darkness. No lights or reflections from the Liege forts were allowed on the roofs and only in Friedrichstrasse was an electric light permitted. Restaurants and cafes were paying half their profits to the Liege forts. A war map exhibited in a shop on Friedrichstrasse indicated German successes, but the police instantly ordered its removal."

The Berlin papers which for a time firmly insisted that the Liege forts were in German hands finally admitted that this was not correct. It was pointed out that several forts were still withstanding the attack, but it was the Emperor's wish that no more lives than necessary should be sacrificed and that the fact that the Belgians had not yet captured the forts should not embarrass the German operations."

The German Emperor had started a journalistic enterprise in the Lokal Anzeiger, Leipzig, which was moved into a hospital town and all the news from Liege were being conveyed there.

"The people, the traveler added, were showing uneasiness and depression."

London, August 16.—(3:25 a. m.)—A dispatch from Paris to Reuters says the official account of the fighting Friday and Saturday between French and German troops at Balmont and Ciry-Sur-Vesouze adds that the affair was a particularly brilliant one. The German force consisted of a Bavarian army corps, then the Germans attacked the French divisions from the rear. The French troops executed a grand flanking movement which forced the commander of the Bavarian army corps to retire in the direction of Saarburg. The engagement was a hot one. The morale of the French troops was excellent. Friday the French occupied an angle of the Donon, and took more than five hundred prisoners.

"A dispatch to Reuters from Brussels says it is officially declared that the general situation has not changed since yesterday evening. The official communication adds:

"There are no signs of any large body of Germans in front of our army. We are not in direct contact with the enemy at any point of this front. The impression is that the operations have been momentarily arrested."

No Germans Sent to Siberia.

A St. Petersburg dispatch to Reuters says it is officially declared there that there is no truth in the suggestion that Germans in Russia are being transported to Siberia. Not a single one has been banished. It is said all are to be demobilized in the eastern provinces of European Russia. The official Russian communication adds that two German destroyers have been captured, a Russian town on the Baltic, but without damage.

German cavalry is officially reported to be coming back in eastern Prussia on the Russian border and German reserve troops are said to be advancing to the forward along the frontier.

The official press bureau of the British war office and admiralty today says:

The Germans are suffering from a shortage of horses, thousands of which have been killed or taken by the Belgians, and the German army is unable to obtain more from Germany."

A Reuter dispatch from Paris does not contain confirmation of the report that General Von Deimling, commander of the Fifteenth German army corps, had been killed in the fighting at Balmont. It mentioned, however, that he had been wounded.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says the Austrian troops evacuated the towns of Krasnaya and Chencin, in Russian Poland, on August 15, after an attack by Russian cavalry, which destroyed the Austrian positions. French in Forward Movement All Along the Battle Front

Paris, August 16.—(11:40 p. m.)—The following official statement was issued tonight:

"A forward movement developed today all along the front from Reims to the north. In Lorraine, 11 miles south of Metz, the French troops, supported by several battalions of infantry and advanced into the region of Saint Blaise.

"French troops who occupied Donon Saturday continued to advance. We have taken 1,000 prisoners. In addition 500 Friday. Large quantities of equipment were abandoned by the Germans. We also have captured them. We pushed as far as Loupin Heights, capturing a number of German soldiers. The division, consisting of nineteen automobiles and Lorries.

"The force consisted of a guard division and the first cavalry division, supported by several battalions of infantry and machine gun companies. When these forces appeared on the left bank the French detachments with great vigor and dash. The Germans soon gave way and recrossed the Meuse in great disorder. Many who failed to reach the bridge slipped down the steep bank and fell into the swiftly flowing river and were drowned.

"Profiting by the disorder, a French light cavalry regiment followed over the river and pursued the Germans for many miles. This regiment put to flight and drove before it greatly superior forces of German cavalry.

"Russian mobilization has been carried out with remarkable rapidity. The army is ready to assume the offensive, which soon will make itself felt. Already in Galicia Russian cavalry has crossed the frontier, driving back the Austrians. Further east an Austrian detachment which penetrated south of Jaropol has been defeated.

"Troops also are moving against Germany. The Germans made superhuman efforts last year to strengthen the fortresses on the Vistula, notably at Gaudens and Thorn. Nevertheless, their situation is insecure. They have been obliged to call up all kinds of reserves to back up their active army corps, and it is doubtful whether these forces can resist the Russian attack as long as the Germans hoped."

LIEGE FORTS BLOCKING ADVANCE OF GERMANS

After Days of Bombarding the Forts Show No Signs of Yielding.

Brussels, August 16.—(Via Paris, 12:35 p. m.)—An official communication issued tonight says:

"The situation at Liege is quiet. The forts have not been affected by the German fire."

A German war correspondent received a half in the hip had his wound treated and continued to give orders from a wheeled chair.

"The commander has no knowledge of the death of General von Emmich, commander of the Tenth German Army Corps."

The German troops' provisions were fixed today by royal decree."

GERMAN CRUISER FLED FROM BRITISH WARSHIPS

London, August 17.—(2 a. m.)—The Daily Telegraph's Malta correspondent issued tonight the following report of the escape of the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau into the Dardanelles:

"When the Goeben and Breslau were being the Italian shores, a French army corps had to be transported from Africa to France. British warships, allotted to ward off any interference, were assigned to a position between Italy and the line of transportation."

The British cruisers must have wondered why they were left alone although the British cruiser Gloucester had sunk or captured her had not the Goeben hurried to her rescue.

"The operation of the transfer of the French troops being completed, a portion of the British fleet was able to give attention to the German ships. It was learned that the Goeben and Breslau were at Syra, Greece, whither the British ships had followed them. The Germans, however, had hid themselves in the Greek islands and the British ships were scattered and searched for them. The cruiser Gloucester and some destroyers got in touch with the Germans, but the Goeben and Breslau made a prudent flight, believing the whole British fleet was at their heels, they avoided capture by the British ships. It is stated that the Goeben refused an opportunity offered of a single combat with one of the big British ships."

RUSSIANS ARE ACCUSED OF GUERRILLA WARFARE

Berlin, August 16.—(Via Copenhagen, 6:15 p. m.)—The Wolff Bureau, a semi-official news agency in Germany, circulates the following note:

"The conduct of the Russians in those places where they appear by the conduct of the Belgian population to the law of nations, contrary to the law of nations."

"Last night shots were fired on German troops from an ambush at Kalisse in Russian Poland. Two soldiers were killed and twenty or thirty wounded. It seems undoubtedly that the attack was delivered by non-military elements of the place and it is suspected that these bands are connected with the government."

At Frankfurt, Germany, the German troops will not drastically suppress these attacks."

GRAIN GOING ABROAD FROM NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, August 16.—Indications now are that the congestion of grain at this port, due to the suspension of sailing of the American flag, will be rapidly relieved. Today the British steamer, the Albatross, will be loaded with 200,000 bushels of wheat and four other British steamers are loading.

The Belgian consul general here has also received instructions from his home government directing that Belgian bottoms be cleared as rapidly as possible for Antwerp with cargoes of wheat.

The government has placed on shipments of grain to New Orleans by two railroads has not yet been raised.

CREW REFUSES TO SAIL WITH WAR CONTRABAND

Norfolk, Va., August 16.—Twenty-two members of the crew of the British tramp steamer Oakland Grange positively refused to proceed with the voyage to port Caix, claiming the coal cargo is contraband of war. The nationalities represented by the crew are German, Belgian, Scandinavian, Russian, British and Holland. The case is now being handled by the United States commissioner, and his decision will be made tomorrow.

GERMANS WILL ATTEMPT TO BREAK FRENCH CENTER

London, August 17.—(4:10 a. m.)—Telegraphing from Brussels, The Standard's correspondent says:

"As a result of a series of careful aeroplane reconnaissances, Belgian leaders believe the major part of the German army is concentrated at Luxembourg."

The German plan revealed in the latest troop movements indicates an approaching attempt to break through the center of the French line and deliver a crushing blow at the most vital spot in France."

BRITISH WARSHIPS TAKE TWO GERMAN STEAMERS

Paris, August 16.—(3:25 a. m.)—A Havas dispatch from Huelva, Spain, reports that the crew of the steamer Katharine from Algeria say they saw an English torpedo flotilla capture two German steamers, one a freighter and the other a passenger ship. The latter tried to escape and eight shots were fired at her before she was captured. A prize crew was put aboard and the passenger steamer, the captain refusing to steer her to Gibraltar.

ITALY IS DEPENDING ON AMERICAN GRAIN

Rome, August 16.—Although Italy has on hand grain sufficient to last several months, the closure of the Dardanelles, through which the bulk of her imports come, and the suspension of exportations from Argentina, compel the Italian people to turn to the United States for future provisions. The government already has received offers from the American market and the transportation of grain will be facilitated as Italy will assume war risks.

BRITISH CONSUL FLEES TO ESCAPE AUSTRIANS

London, August 16.—(6:50 a. m.)—An Exchange Telegraph company dispatch from Ancona, Italy, reports the arrival there of the English consul from Trieste. The consul states that he had practically to fly for his life when English declared war against Austria.

The consul reports that all British subjects in Trieste have been severely treated by the Austrians and that many Englishmen have been arrested and imprisoned.

GERMANY OFFERS SHIP TO CARRY AMERICANS

United States Will Probably Accept Tender—Gold Ships Reach England.

Washington, August 16.—A new avenue of exit for Americans stranded in Europe was opened today, when the German government offered the United States a Hamburg-American line steamer, which would fly the American flag and bring home refugees. There was every indication that Secretary Garrison, chairman of the government board of relief, would accept the offer.

The opinion was expressed that some of the other nations at war would direct liners to bring Americans home. Hope was expressed that sufficient facilities would be found so that the plan of sending United States transports abroad might be abandoned.

While the Berlin government has suggested that any German ship employed sail from New York around the north coast of Scotland for German ports, it appeared probable that an attempt would be made to agree on a Mediterranean route to avoid danger of encountering mines.

Mr. Garrison asked the American embassies at Berlin and Vienna to demand the release of the Americans in Austria and Germany who want to come home. Minister Stovall, at Bern, reported there were about 10,000 Americans in Switzerland who seek transportation.

U. S. GOLD SHIPS REACH ENGLAND.

Falmouth, England, August 16.—The United States cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina dropped anchor in Falmouth harbor tonight. The North Carolina reached port at 7 o'clock, about half an hour before her sister ship. Scores of boats swarmed around the cruisers, their occupants cheering and waving handkerchiefs.

Assistant Secretary of War Henry S. Breckenridge, who is acting as the direct representative of the government, said that the voyage was uneventful. Two warships were sighted, one English and the other French. They steamed toward the Tennessee, but when they observed the Stars and Stripes, the admiral aboard the British ship fired a salute.

Secretary Breckenridge left Falmouth on a special train for London. A small amount of the Tennessee's cargo of $5,000,000 of gold will be distributed to the continent. The gold for London will be sent by train tomorrow morning. The Tennessee and North Carolina will proceed Tuesday, calling first at Cherbourg. The cruisers will then separate and proceed for different points.

FLOOD OF AMERICANS TO START HOME.

London, August 16.—(11:55 a. m.)—An associated Press dispatch from Berlin, via Copenhagen, states that the return of Americans to their homes will now proceed more speedily as railway traffic is becoming more regular from all the large German cities. A flood of travelers will start in a few days. On Monday a special train will leave Hamburg for Holland and Americans. Other refugees will proceed on three trains, each carrying 400 persons.

Sixty Americans will leave Munich for Holland on Monday. A train from Berlin for Holland on Wednesday will carry 400 Americans, including thirty from Dresden. Americans in Frankfurt and Bad Nauheim will leave for Holland in ordinary trains, four of which will depart daily. Americans who have been in Holland for a long time will go to Holland, as relatives and friends arriving from there say the Americans are easily found in Holland. It is impossible to get steamer passage before the end of September.

The British ambassador in Berlin, Lord Curzon, has advised the American minister to the Netherlands, however, has advised Ambassador Gerard at Berlin that all Americans are easily found in Holland. It is stated that the Germans are now anxious to proceed to Holland, as they have letters of credit upon English banks on which German banks refuse to pay as financial connections with England have been suspended. In many cases, however, the German banks, especially in Frankfurt, will make advances to well-known Americans without security.

Among Americans here who leave Wednesday are fifty-six persons without means, most of whom are German-Americans, who will be aided by the American embassy.

AUGUSTA MAN ON WAY HOME.

On Board the Steamer Principe di Udine.—(By Wireless via Cadiz, Spain). The American ship Principe di Udine, with over 400 Americans aboard from Genoa, passed Gibraltar at 7:30 last night. Nearly all the Americans are from the north and west. Southerners on board are: Mr. Orton, from Jacksonville, Fla.; Miss Esther Detchin.

MAON, GA., AUGUST 16.

J. Randolph Anderson realizes Dr. Hardman is hopelessly beaten in the race for Governor. He makes no attack on Dr. Hardman or his record.

J. Randolph Anderson realizes he himself is hopelessly beaten in the race for Governor. With the recklessness that comes of despair he makes attacks on Judge Nat E. Harris, and his record, that have no foundation in fact.

He charges Judge Harris with an attempt, thirty-two years ago, to raise the legal rate of interest from 8 to 12 per cent. The fact is that the legal rate at that time was 7 per cent. The bill referred to sought to give the people of Georgia the right to make contracts at a rate up to 12 per cent. A lawyer, who does not know the difference between the legal rate and a contract rate is either trying to mislead the people or he has not knowledge enough to be Governor. Perhaps J. Randolph Anderson will learn the difference by the time he is 68 years young.

J. Randolph Anderson charged that Judge Harris' vote against the Ray Fertilizer bill thirty-two years ago was a vote against the farmers.

If the bill was so good for the farmers, why has not this legislator of ten years' service, who has become the friend of the farmer since he offered as a candidate for governor, offered and had passed a similar bill? Why has not Dr. Hardman done so? Is it not because they know the farmers would oppose it now, as they did then?

Judge Harris voted with the majority for the farmers in 1883. What did J. Randolph Anderson join with eighteen other representatives in 1912 and vote against the bill to prohibit injurious fillers in fertilizers? House Journal 1912, pp. 940-942. If Judge Harris is subject to criticism for voting against a defective bill in 1883, what must be said of J. Randolph Anderson, who voted against a perfectly good bill to protect the farmers against defective fertilizers in 1912?

J. Randolph Anderson charges that Judge Harris is "Almost constitutionally incapable of making up his mind, and of taking any positive, decided stand on any question where feeling or influence is brought to bear on both sides of it," and for that reason made a failure as a Judge and therefore did not offer for re-election.

The people of the Macon circuit can testify to the baselessness of the allegations of this character. Judge Harris tried all cases brought before him, and held up his decision in only one case, and that for only six days. In his six months' tenure he tried over three hundred cases; several went to the higher courts, and he was reversed in none. He attended faithfully to all the work of the circuit and could have been overwhelmingly elected to the office if he had desired to keep it.

The people who know and love Judge Harris will punish at the polls this outrageous personal attack by a younger man, upon a loyal, just and upright veteran.

(Signed) F. R. JONES,
Manager Nat E. Harris' Campaign Headquarters.

JAP CRUISER TO HUNT WARSHIPS OF KAISER

Naval Battle Is Probable Off the Coast of California.

San Diego, Cal., August 16.—The Japanese armored cruiser Idzumo has received orders from Tokyo to be ready to sail on thirty minutes notice. The cruiser's crew today was filling all bunkers with fuel. Captain Moriama expects to leave port in 24 hours, but said he did not believe the Idzumo would return to Japan for some time. The German cruiser Leipzig is somewhere off San Francisco and her companion, the Nurnberg, is farther north.

TURKEY PROCLAIMS STRICT NEUTRALITY

Washington, August 16.—The Turkish ambassador, A. Rustem Bey, tonight issued the following statement: "The statement having been attributed to me in the press that Turkey is on the point of joining in the European conflict, I hasten to declare that a cablegram from the Turkish minister of foreign affairs informs me that, to leave no doubt as to her intentions, the Porte once more asserts categorically her determination to observe a strict neutrality."

RUSS TOWN BOMBARDED BY GERMAN WARSHIPS

London, August 16.—(1:30 p. m.)—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to Reuters' agency says it is officially announced that two German torpedo boat destroyers have bombed Polangen, in the province of Courland, on the Baltic, but without doing any damage.

AUSTRIANS RETIRE IN WILD DISORDER FROM SERVIAN FIRE

Attempt to Cross the River
Save Balked With Heavy Loss—Boatloads Austrian Soldiers Sunk by Servians.

London, August 16.—(7:55 a. m.)—A Reuter dispatch from High, under date of August 15, says that at 11 o'clock Thursday night the Austrians tried to pass the Save river under protection of their artillery.

The Servian artillery opened a well sustained fire, which had a disastrous effect on the Austrians and compelled them to retire in disorder. Many of the Austrians who were unable to recross the river were taken prisoners.

The Servian guns sank near Belgrade, the dispatch states, two boatloads of Austrian soldiers. All attempts of the Austrians to disembark on the Danube in the direction of Tekia completely failed. The Austrians continue the bombardment of Belgrade nightly.

RUSSIANS DRIVE AUSTRIAN FORCES.

St. Petersburg, August 16.—(Via London, 4:25 p. m.)—The Austrian troops evacuated the towns of Kieles and Chencin, in Russian Poland, on August 13 after an attack by Russian cavalry, which surprised a body of 800 Czech inhabitants of Sokal, in Austrian Galicia, who were supported by the Tenth regiment of Austrian dragoons.

AUSTRIAN TROOPS MOVE NORTHWARD.

Berlin, August 16.—(Via Amsterdam and London, 1:15 p. m.)—The northward advance of the Austro-Hungarian armies continues both along the right and left banks of the river Vistula, forming the boundary between Austrian Galicia and Russian Poland.

AUSTRIANS FIRE ON BELGRADE.

Nish, Serbia, August 16.—Belgrade, the Serbian capital, was bombarded heavily from 5 o'clock to 7 o'clock yesterday evening when shells fell into the city at the rate of sixteen a minute and caused considerable damage. The Serbian artillery finally succeeded in silencing the Austrian guns.

AMPLE SAFEGUARDS PROMISED BY JAPAN

derstood, did not indicate what her attitude would be, preferring to outline her position as developments arose. Immediately Germany began to sound the American government as to the possibility of neutralizing the German provinces in China, and the attitude of Germany was conveyed informally through the United States to Japan.

Ambassador Guthrie, at Tokio, has had many conversations with the Japanese government, in which the intimation was constantly given that the United States could feel assured of Japan's intention to maintain the integrity of China.

Germany's Far East Stronghold.

The military and naval conditions at Kiau-Chau and political events leading up to the present crisis were outlined today by a distinguished diplomat of the Far East. He pointed out that Kiau-Chau is the great German stronghold of the Orient, and is considered as formidable as the fortress at Port Arthur. It is garrisoned by a German force of about 5,000 men. The entire establishment, military and naval, is under a German military governor. A network of railways has made German influence virtually paramount throughout the whole of the important province of Shan-Tung.

The German naval base at Kiau-Chau consists chiefly of cruisers and gunboats. It is expected, therefore, that in the event of operations against Kiau-Chau, they would be of a military rather than a naval character. Japan's strategy is to believe Germany would withdraw her ships within the harbor, mine the entrance and then depend on the military garrison and the strength of the fortress to protect it against a movement from the land side.

The Japanese fleet would station itself at the entrance of the harbor, much as it did at Port Arthur, when the Russian fleet was held there, and that military forces would be brought from Japan to lay siege to the fortress from the land side.

From the Japanese standpoint, Kiau-Chau's chief menace to Japan is that it lies directly opposite Korea, the great field of Japanese colonial development, and also just across the sea from the southern Japanese islands.

When Germany Covered Japan.

Explaining the political effect of Germany's occupation of Kiau-Chau, this diplomat said the issue presented today had its origin in the events of the Japan-China war. At that time, he said, Japan had taken Port Arthur from China after a memorable contest. At this point, however, he said, Germany took the lead among a group of European powers in demanding that Japan should not retain the fruits of her victory by holding Port Arthur. Yielding to this pressure, Japan had relinquished this prize. Shortly after this a German fleet occupied Kiau-Chau, claiming it as an indemnity for alleged attacks on German missionaries. Since then Kiau-Chau has been steadily developed, until now, with its fortress, its hinterland, and its outlying sections in Shan-Tung province, it represents, in the Japanese view, a formidable foothold of German influence.

Meantime, Russia no longer is at Port Arthur and England has given up her naval establishment at Wei-Hel-Wei. So, it is pointed out, Germany remains

Text of Anglo-Japanese Pact Under Which Japan Issues Her Ultimatum to Germany

Washington, August 16.—The text of the offensive and defensive alliance between Japan and Great Britain, under which Japan has issued an ultimatum to Germany, became available here today and is as follows: "Agreement of alliance between the United Kingdom and Japan. Signed at London, July 13, 1911.

"The government of Great Britain and the government of Japan having in view the important changes which have taken place in the situation since the conclusion of the Anglo-Japanese agreement of the 12th of August, 1905, and believing that a revision of that agreement responding to such changes would contribute to general stability and repose, have agreed upon the following stipulations to replace the agreement above mentioned, such stipulations having the same object as the said agreement, namely:

"(a) The consolidation and maintenance of the general peace in the regions of eastern Asia and of India. (b) The preservation of the common interests of the two contracting parties in the maintenance of the independence and integrity of the Chinese empire and of the Persian empire, and of the commerce and industry of all nations in China.

"(c) The maintenance of the territorial rights of the high contracting parties in the regions of eastern Asia and of India, and of the special interests in the said regions. "In the opinion of either Great Britain or Japan, any of the rights and interests of the other party in the regions of eastern Asia and of India, which are mentioned in this agreement are in jeopardy, the two governments will communicate with one another and will consider in common the measures which should be taken to safeguard those mentioned rights and interests.

"In case of unprovoked attack. "Article 4. If an unprovoked attack, wherever arising, on the part of any power or powers, or of any contracting party should be involved in war in any of its territorial rights or special interests mentioned in the preamble, virtually alone among the European powers in north China.

Japan's constant avowed policy has been to get the return of Kiau-Chau to China and it is declared in authoritative Japanese quarters that Japan has no territorial aspirations whatever as to Kiau-Chau.

Anglo-Japanese Alliance.

The Anglo-Japanese alliance is said to have been the decisive factor in bringing about the present step by Japan. This alliance was originally made in 1902. On July 13, 1911, the alliance was extended for ten years, and since that time it has been renewed in addition, affecting the United States, was in article four, which provided that neither of the contracting parties was obliged to go to war with a power with whom a treaty of arbitration was in force. As the United States has treaties of general arbitration on both sides of the Pacific, Japan, this new article four excepted this country from the operation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

It is understood the recent exchanges between English and Japanese officials have brought out the view of Great Britain that her interests in the Far East were being endangered by the operations of German warships and by the general conditions growing out of Germany's strong military position at Kiau-Chau.

Since the beginning of the European war, Japan has been preparing her military forces for all emergencies and has been concentrating her naval strength in the China seas. The American government has been kept constantly advised of these movements, and has expected that some decisive action on the part of Japan would follow in a formal communication to Germany as the latter's suggestion for the neutralization of the German provinces in the Far East was not met with favor in Japan. Germany's resources in the Far East are confined in the main to the 5,000 men garrisoned at Kiau-Chau. These have recently been augmented by all the German troops usually kept in and near Peking and Tientsin. This latter German force consists of seven thousand men and 143 men.

Japan's warships and armies are all concentrated in the China seas. There are about 1,200 United States Marines and infantrymen stationed at Peking.

Japan May Fight in West.

Japanese naval experts view the view today that Japanese activities would be confined entirely to the Far East, at least for the present. It was declared that in the event of war between Japan and Germany, Japan's field of activity would not necessarily be confined to the Far East, as her fleet and forces would be available, if occasion required, for operation in conjunction with her ally in western waters, including the home ports of Germany.

At the German embassy no information had been received today concerning Japan's action and no comment as to the German viewpoint of the crisis is available.

Kai Fu Shih, Chinese minister here, shown the text of the ultimatum, declined to comment, saying he had heard nothing from his government. He had not been officially informed of the ultimatum, having heard of it only through the press notices.

Among experienced diplomats the fact has not escaped notice that Japan's ultimatum not only brings her into the active elements of the present conflict, but also brings her diplomacy as a factor to be reckoned with when the final councils of Europe are held to settle the strife.

GERMANY IS ORDERED TO DISARM WARSHIPS

than September 15 to the Imperial Japanese authorities without condition or compensation the entire leased territory of Kiau-Chau with a view to the eventual restoration of the same to China.

"The Imperial Japanese government announces at the same time that in the event of it not receiving by noon on August 23, 1914, an answer from the Imperial German government signifying its unconditional acceptance of the above advice offered by the Imperial Japanese government, Japan will be compelled to take such action as may seem necessary to meet the situation."

JAPAN REGRETS HAVING TO ACT.

Inspired utterances express regret at the inability to maintain neutrality, but say that Great Britain, the ally of Japan, is compelled to defend herself against the aggressions of Germany.

Moreover, it is pointed out that Germany is making preparations day and night at Kiau-Chau, where it is storing provisions, while its warships are scouring the seas of eastern Asia to the detriment of commerce, and that its converted cruisers are seizing English merchant vessels. Such actions, it is argued, are directly calculated to disturb the peace of eastern Asia, and accordingly, after full and frank communication with Great Britain, Japan has found herself commands and including the garrison on peace footing.

Germany's Pacific possessions are administered by an imperial governor. Kaiser Wilhelm's land has a population of about 700 white men, virtually all Germans. The seat of government of the German Pacific possessions is at Herberstshoe, Bismarck Archipelago.

The Solomon Islands are owned in part by Germany. The Caroline, Palau and Marianas, the latter sometimes known as the Ladrone, all form part of the German New Guinea protectorate. The native population is 55,000 with about 200 Germans.

The Marshall Islands are two chains of lagoon islands, several uninhabited. In a population estimated at 15,000, less than 200 are European.

The Samoa Islands belonging to Germany are Savaii and Upolu, with an area of 1,900 square miles.

PROMISE OF RUSSIA WELCOMED BY POLES

Paris, August 16.—(6:20 p. m.)—Madame Pierre Curie, the French scientist, who is a born Pole and whose maiden name was Sklodowska, interviewed by the Temps today in connection with the Russian proclamation promising autonomy to Poland, says:

"This seems to me to be the first important step towards the union of Poland and reconciliation with Russia. This is necessary for the development of the Polish nation and for the Polish people."

"Russia, as the protector of the Slav peoples, is undertaking a war to defend Serbia against the aggression of Germany. This is a war for the Polish people, for the Polish people are united with Poland and Austria and Poland."

"In our time when national feeling is so intense it is certain that last night between the Polish people, numbering 25,000,000, and Russia, which only comes on the basis of respect for Germany has done more to destroy Polish national sentiment than she has done in a similar way in Alsace-Lorraine."

Professor Babinski, a member of the French Academy of Medicine, said the Poles showed greater appreciation of the union of the three divisions of Poland than elsewhere and that the Polish people in Russia, Austria and Germany would prove a veritable resurrection.

REPORTS OF BATTLE DENIED BY GERMANY

London, August 16.—(11:40 p. m.)—The following dispatch received by agency at St. Petersburg tonight from London newspapers tonight:

"The reports of a big Austro-Servian battle, circulated in Paris and London, are untrue."

"Two Russian cavalry divisions appeared in the east and having set fire to the small town of Margarabova, east of Prussia, withdrew over the frontier."

"Unimportant engagements have taken place in Togoland (German West Africa), between patrols and invading French troops. The enemy lost three men killed, but there were no German losses. English troops also have entered Togoland, but have not come in contact with the Germans."

EXCESSES OF GERMANS CHARGED TO RUSSIANS

London, August 16.—(6:25 p. m.)—A dispatch from the Semi-official News Agency at St. Petersburg tonight from London reports that the Russian government has formed on the frontier bands of irregulars who commit atrocities are denounced as false.

"Russia has not formed any bands of irregulars and the object of these reports is to impute to Russia the commission of atrocities by German troops themselves commit on the wounded and on the peaceful population."

Judge Nash R. Broyles Answers Alex. W. Stephens' False and Slanderous Card

TO THE PEOPLE OF GEORGIA:— In answer to Alex. W. Stephens' ill-tempered and abusive card I have this reply to make:

I would not have mentioned his name had he not, by himself and his paid agents, slandered me all over Georgia. I stood this until "forbearance ceased to be a virtue."

I have thrown no "mud" in my campaign—I have simply told the plain, unvarnished TRUTH about Alex. W.'s record as a lawyer, and from his loud outcries, it would seem in his case that "the truth hurts."

Every statement in the circular, that he denounces as a lie, is TRUE, and he and every other lawyer in Atlanta knows it.

Mr. Stephens charges that the names of two dead men are forged to this circular. He refers to Hon. J. D. Kilpatrick and Gov. J. M. Terrell. It is true that these two distinguished Georgians are now dead—but two years ago they were alive, and they both signed the article, a copy of which Mr. Stephens now says is a lie! This is a sample of Mr. Stephens' fair (?) campaign methods!

Mr. Stephens, after begging in vain for the support of his home lawyers and home people, now turns on them a stream of abuse and vilification and denounces them, for campaign purposes, before the people of Georgia. "It's an ill bird that befouls its own nest!" The people of Georgia will not be deceived by such political methods—they know that the best judges of a man's character and abilities are his home people, his neighbors and daily associates. The people of Georgia realize that the trouble with Mr. Stephens is a bad case of "sour grapes," and a sad case of demagoguery! They will not put a lawyer on the Court of Appeals who has been defeated in his own county for Justice of the Peace, for the Legislature, and for every other office to which he has aspired.

While Mr. Stephens denounces this circular as a lie, he does not deny that a few years ago he did endorse a NEGRO politician for admission to the Atlanta Bar. He would deny this if he could, but his indorsement is of record, and he dares not do so. On December 2, 1904, he indorsed the application of a NEGRO named Foster B. Pettie and recommended that he be admitted to practice law in the Courts of Georgia. Mr. Stephens cannot escape the consequences of this indorsement, namely: that this NEGRO as a lawyer would have the right to sit with white lawyers in the Court House and to cross-question white witnesses, perhaps white women! What a spectacle for the people of Georgia! The old Alexander Hamilton Stephens would never have indorsed a NEGRO's application to become a lawyer. By the way, Mr. Alex. W. Stephens claims to be the nephew of the great Stephens. I am reliably informed that he is one-half of a great nephew only—about as close kin as a third or fourth cousin.

This circular that Mr. Stephens is now denouncing as a lie is simply a copy of that part of the article referring to his record as a lawyer prepared by Hon. J. D. Kilpatrick, Hon. Chas. T. Hopkins and hundreds of other prominent lawyers and citizens of Atlanta, two years ago, when Mr. Stephens was running against Judge Pendleton, and published in all of the Atlanta papers. Why didn't Mr. Stephens denounce it as a lie then? He dared not—because he knew that the people of Atlanta knew it was true! Now he is deliberately attempting to deceive the people of Georgia by baldly and unblushingly denying the truth! He is trying to ride into office on his name alone, and because he is fortunate enough to be distantly related to a great Georgian long since departed from this life. He is frantically trying to divert attention from his record as a lawyer, as a chronic and unsuccessful office-seeker, and as a NEGRO indorser. But he will not succeed! The candidate now before the people is the living Alex. W. Stephens, of Atlanta, and not the great and dead Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia. NO, he will not succeed, for "Truth is mighty and will prevail."

Respectfully,
NASH R. BROYLES.

Great Spurt.

THE SPURT of the Boston Braves is the talk of the baseball world. Their streak has surpassed anything ever before recorded in the annals of baseball. To be in last place on July 6, and then in second place on August 10, and cutting down the lead of the first place team every day thereafter, is indeed a record to be proud of.

Their Record.

THE BRAVES, starting on July 10 and including the game played with the Giants on Saturday, have won 29 games, lost 3 and tied 1. The most wonderful clip that any ball team has ever traveled at, and when it is taken into consideration that half of the games were played on foreign soil, their spurt is all the more wonderful.

Recent Achievement.

THEY CAPPED all their record-breaking performances by their last three games. Going to New York, they tackled the champions and league leaders in their own home field. They proceeded to walloping the stuff of out of them in three straight games, routing James and Taylor who have been beating the brunt of the work, tossing great games in the order named. This is indeed great work, and shows the kind of stuff that the Braves are made of. And this with Johnny Evers, the fighting spirit of the team, out of the lineup.

Have the Bug.

THE PENNANT has stung the Braves. They believe they are going to win the National League pennant, and in this belief they have the good wishes of every baseball fan in the country. Outside of Gotham. Everybody in Atlanta is pulling for them.

The Answer.

SATURDAY the Atlanta fans were showing why the Chattanooga Lookouts are leading the league in home runs. The large crowd saw Tommy Long catch five high flies in deep left field. They were easy catches, without any effort on Tommy's part. Every one of those flies would have been over the left field fence in Chattanooga for home runs. There you have it in a nutshell.

Looks Good.

BANKSTON did not break into the hit column in his first day as a Cracker, but nervousness and new surroundings can be blamed for the few failures to come before Saturday than he has ever played to before. And with a new team and a new manager, it is not surprising he did as well as he did.

Encourage Him.

GIVE BANKSTON the glad hand, you fans, for a few days; cheer him every time he does anything. Show him the fellow that you are with him. He will win across the country. Make him feel at home, and he'll come through. He handles himself splendidly in the field, and shows as well, besides a splendid throwing arm. He has a fine position as a catcher, and that he is going to make the Crackers a corking good man.

Up to Fans.

WELCHONCE day at Ponce de Leon will be August 19. On this day Atlanta fans will be given the opportunity of showing why the Crackers are the work of the Cracker captain, who is now here to combat with the dead-end white crabs. He is a body. Those who cannot attend are urged to purchase a ticket. Welchonce shares in the gate receipts Wednesday. Let's make the receipts the biggest of the season.

Poor Johnny.

JOHN EVERS, second baseman and captain of the Boston Braves, has had his run of bad luck. He has lost more than his share. For the past two years fate has smiled very unkindly on the Cracker. He has lost his savings when an employee skipped with the proceeds of his shoe business, then he was hurt in an auto accident, and one of his dearest friends kicked out by C. Webb Murphy. But the latest blow is the saddest of all. He lost his little son, a child of five, fevered under his care. His little son also has the disease.

Wonderful Courage.

IN THE FACE of such disasters, Evers has always come back with a little more than when he left off. He has played better every season, but this latest blow has left him sad and dejected, and it is not going to be able to help the Braves in their spurt for the pennant. Manager Stallings very thoughtfully is not going to ask Evers to rejoin the team, leaving it to Evers' own free will.

Brain Storm.

SO EXCITED was the Nashville Tennessean and American sport scribbler after the Volts' victory yesterday over the Crackers that they put the folks in the first division ahead of the Crackers. But they're not to be excited. However, if we pulled such a bull we'd expect to have a pink slip handed to us next morning.

Records Fall.

MANY RECORDS have been made in the Southern League this season, only to topple and fall and some new mark set up. Truly it has been a wonderful season in many respects, a season that will go down in the records as the one of the most wonderful in its history. Eighty consecutive games without an error in the outfield, forty with out an error in the infield, some odd without a bobble at second and so on.

Our Only Hope.

WILLIE HOPPE appears to be our only hope. The foreign invasion of America in the world of sport has been blessed with victory in everything thus far, golf, polo and tennis. If Hump beat Hoppe for the billiard title it will then certainly be a grand old year of dope upsets. Maybe the best thing that the war prevents the sailing of the races for America's cup.

The Final Day.

SATURDAY was the final day for recalling players from lower leagues. Options expired Saturday, and this did not affect any Crackers, as every player who was going to be recalled had been recalled some time previously.

Bill Smith Flies Flag At Half-Mast in Honor Of B. Erskine Brewster

In respect to the memory of B. Erskine Brewster, one of the most loyal rooters that the Atlanta Crackers have ever had, Manager Smith ordered the pennant on the flag pole in center field at half-mast Saturday afternoon, and it will continue that way today.

Crackers Resume Series With the Mooses Today; On Road Trip Sunday

The Crackers resume their series with the Lookouts this afternoon with Alut Williams flinging for the Crackers. The series with the Lookouts will be concluded with a single game today. The games will start at 3:30 o'clock each day.

These games will mark the final meeting between the two teams this season. This makes the Crackers doubly anxious to make up for some lost time by playing the harpoon into the men of McCormick.

Mike Finn's fast moving chicks, who despite their low standing, are playing a high-class brand of baseball, will be here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for single games.

Wednesday will be Welchonce day. The local club is going to split its percentage of the gate receipts on that date—50-50—with the Cracker captain as at taken of their team.

This puts it squarely up to you fans to do your share. What about it? Show your appreciation of what Welchonce has done for the Atlanta team in the past two seasons by attending the game in large numbers.

If you cannot attend, buy a ticket, and have it sent to the day the big fight. Welchonce has never lost a fight. He never asked for favors. He does not ask any now, but we believe he is deserving of this, maybe the last and only favor Atlanta fans can grant.

Are you going to be lax? We believe we know Atlanta fans enough to answer the question they will come through nicely.

Saturday, the Montgomery Billikens will come here for a double-header, one game, the scheduled one being transferred here with the unanimous consent of the league and the other game being a postponed affair.

On Sunday, the Crackers leave Saturday night on their final road trip of the season, playing the four southern division clubs.

The road trip opens in Montgomery Sunday and closes in Birmingham September 5. Thirteen games will be played on the trip, two in Montgomery, three in Mobile, five in New Orleans and three in Birmingham in the order named, with Sunday games in Montgomery and Birmingham.

This trip will determine the Crackers' standing for the season. The last time they took this trip they lost and lost tight.

EASTMAN CLAIMING THE STATE TITLE

Claim That North Georgia Teams Have Dodged the Issue Repeatedly.

Eastman, Ga., August 16.—(Special.) The Eastman baseball club having defeated every Southern club in the professional championship of Georgia, it is claimed that the club has dodged the issue repeatedly.

The great disappointment of Eastman was the fans of Eastman, who claim that any club which has dodged the issue repeatedly is not a professional club.

Douglas, Madison and Carroll have all claimed the state championship. Any club may claim it, but neither of these clubs has any right. Carroll and Eastman have never crossed bats, although Eastman has offered Carroll the chance.

The manager of the Eastman ball club has repeatedly asked the Madison club to play a game, but the Madison club has refused to play. Eastman has played six games, won four, lost two, giving them an average of .667. Eastman won the south Georgia championship, but the only reason they did not win the state championship was the north Georgia clubs refused to give them games.

State League Season Will Close Tuesday; Winner of Second Half Not Settled

Edited By Dick Jemison

The Georgia State league's second half-season will come to a close Tuesday. Games are scheduled for today and Tuesday as follows:

Cordele vs Brunswick.
Americus vs Thomasville.
Waycross vs Valdosta.

The second half pennant is not decided yet. Brunswick, in second place, has an outside chance to win, but a very outside one.

Americus is leading by two and a half games, with three games remaining to be played—Saturday's postponed game and the games scheduled today and Tuesday.

Should Americus lose all three games to Thomasville, and Brunswick win both of her games with Cordele, the teams would be tied with 33 wins and 18 losses each.

To win the second half pennant, Americus has only to win one of the three remaining games to be played. The winner of the second half season will meet Thomasville, the winner of the first half-season, in a post-season series of seven games, which will start shortly after the regular season closes, presumably Thursday.

Tuesday, Brunswick has two games remaining to be played.

COTTON MEETING AT CAPITOL TODAY

Farmers, Bankers and Business Men Will Discuss Methods for Disposing of Crop at Good Price.

Georgia farmers, bankers and business men began arriving in Atlanta last night to attend the conference and discuss the cotton situation, at the state capitol today.

The conference will be of great importance to the farmer and to the business interests generally of the state. At the present moment the south's cotton industry is facing a crisis due to the closing of the European cotton markets by the war. It will be the aim of the conference to bring the farmers to a realization that they must formulate some sane and feasible plan to prevent a sacrifice of the cotton crop, also to devise a method through which cotton may be sold at the best price obtainable.

In a letter which he has sent broadcast over the state, Mr. Walker called attention to the necessity of all interests—farmer, manufacturer, banker, railroad, and others, of attending the conference, pointing out that the more the farmer gets for his cotton crop the better off the state will be.

Georgia's cotton crop will be in the neighborhood of two million bales. The entire crop will be worth less than $100,000,000 if sold for eight cents. It would be sold for twelve cents, and as again pointed out by Mr. Walker, Georgia could, if necessary, throw away $50,000,000 of this crop which cost her farmers from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 to produce, and still have more money to spend if her farmers get 12 cents a pound for what is left than if they get 8 cents.

In other words, if the cotton crop can be sold for 12 cents, the farmers of the state stand to save about $30,000,000.

Another object of the conference will be to advise the farmer of what is being done to aid him. The session will be strictly business, and only a legitimate discussion of the situation will be allowed.

It is to be shown that it is to his advantage to hold his cotton rather than dispose of it at ruinous prices, the state will be many millions of dollars richer.

SLAYER OF BULLINGTON REPORTED CAPTURED

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Sheriff J. R. Hicks tonight dispatched a deputy to Ocala to investigate the reported arrest of a negro, Frank Daniels, wanted here for the murder of James R. Bullington, a well known Macon merchant, in July, 1911. After the killing, the negro barricaded himself in a nearby house and when attacked shot and injured a negro deputy sheriff and finally escaped, though two possees gave pursuit. Since then his arrest has been reported several times but it has always turned out to be a mistake. Sheriff Tucker, at Ocala, is said to have had a post card picture of Daniels, which the negro under arrest admitted was his own. He is said to have confessed he shot Mr. Bullington.

VINSON HAS RACE WON, DECLARES HIS MANAGER

Milledgeville, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Judge Vinson was in his home town today just from a week of vigorous campaigning in different parts of the tenth district.

He is in fine spirits about his race for congress, confident that he will win. Dave Howard, his campaign manager, declares Vinson has this race won and will have easily enough votes to give him the nomination on first ballot.

Judge Vinson has been in every district in each county in the tenth except Richmond, Washington and Columbia, making during the contest 154 speeches.

A. H. CHAPMAN ACCEPTS PLACE WITH WINECOFF

A. H. Chapman, who has been the popular room clerk at the Hotel Ansley since the opening of that hotel, resigned his position there on August 1, and Sunday announced that he had accepted the position of room clerk at the Hotel Winecoff, and will be found on duty at that popular hostelry on Monday morning.

Mr. Chapman has a host of friends throughout the south, and is considered one of the best in his line. He recently made the On-to-Toronto trip with the Atlanta Ad Men's club as the personal representative of J. E. Letton, and made many friends among the Ad Men.

J. R. COOPER TO SPEAK IN SAVANNAH TONIGHT

Macon, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—Col. John R. Cooper, who has been campaigning the state for four months in the interest of his candidacy for the United States senate, will speak in Savannah Monday night at 8:30 o'clock at the courthouse.

He has delivered more than fifty speeches during the campaign and has been by far the best drawing card. In Atlanta Friday night he spoke to four thousand people and in Macon Saturday night he was heard by a crowd that completely filled the superior court room. Mr. Cooper is well known in Savannah as a criminal lawyer and has many close friends there.

EX-S. S. SUPERINTENDENT GUILTY OF GRAVE CHARGE

Rome, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—From Canton, Ga., where superior court is in session, come reports to the effect that Paul Womack, former superintendent of a Sunday school at Lindale, in this county, pleaded guilty in that court to a statute for which he was sentenced to serve six months in the chain gang.

Womack's wife charges him with having deserted her and abandoned their family. He is alleged to have left Lindale in company with a young woman, and to have lived in Canton. As soon as the Georgia courts are through with him he will be demanded by the officers of Mobile, Ala., to stand trial for a similar offense.

Georgia to Profit Greatly By the Vital Statistics Law And New Public Health Bill

The vital statistics law will chart the battlefield for the greatest contest ever fought in Georgia for humanity, while the public health law will provide the means to fight the battle, was the declaration of Hon. R. C. Ellis, member of the legislature from Tift county, in discussing the two new laws enacted at the recent session of the general assembly.

No member of either house of the general assembly did more earnest nor more wisely work than Mr. Ellis, who has been fighting for a public health law for the state for four years. He is the author of the public health law just enacted.

How It Works.
In talking of the purposes and workings of the new laws Mr. Ellis said:

"The public health law adds two members to the state board of health, making fifteen in all. These new members are the state superintendent of schools, because a large part of the health work is educational and must be done through the public schools, and the state veterinarian, who is added because man has many diseases in common with other animals."

"The law provides for a county board of health in each county of the state, composed of the county superintendent of schools, the chairman of the board of county commissioners, or if there is no such board, the ordinary, and one member who is a physician, elected by the grand jury for a term of one year."

"All the health laws of the state which are now vested in the county authorities are conferred upon this board, which, while being independent of the state board of health, is of course, expected to co-operate with the general line of the work of the state board of health."

"The law in local option so far as the creation of sanitary districts and the work to be done therein by the district commission, and before the provisions of this bill become operative in any county, it must be recommended by the grand jury, whereupon the law is made to apply to such county. The operation of the law is suspended in any county in like manner."

State Sanitary Districts.
"Provision is made to divide the state into sanitary districts, composed of one or more counties, as the counties may decide. As many counties may be combined in one district as the population does not exceed 75,000."

"The county boards of health of the several counties composing each sanitary district will elect the district commissioner, who will provide for the health of the district under the terms of this act."

"The duties of the district commissioner are to enforce all the state and county health laws of his sanitary district, the county boards to supervise in good condition. He must inspect the grounds, buildings and water supply of every school and see that they are sanitary. He must also examine every teacher and janitor for communicable diseases and also examine each pupil for such diseases and also for defects of the eye, ear, nose and throat, lungs, teeth, etc."

"The district commissioner will be required to make a report of his findings to the state board of health, the county board of health, the local health officer, and in the case of the pupil also to the parents or guardian."

"The health commissioner is prohibited from practicing medicine and each parent must have his child treated by his family physician if it is so desired."

The Vital Statistics Measure.
In discussing the vital statistics measure enacted by the legislature, Mr. Ellis said:

"The vital statistics bill introduced by Senator Elkins is the model bill recommended by the United States census bureau. It provides for the gathering of statistics of births and deaths and the causes of death."

"It is, therefore, a great aid in public health work, and this law is necessary to the successful operation of the public health law."

"The bill provides for a state registrar, appointed by the state board of health, with a salary of $1,500, and the work is to be done under the supervision of the state board of health."

"The local registrars in towns and cities are the town or city clerk respectively, and in the country districts the justices of the peace or notary public, ex-officio justices of the peace."

"No appropriation has been made by the legislature to put the vital statistics in operation. The legislature often passes bills creating offices without providing any appropriation for the purpose of defraying the expenses of such office or department. Such was the case for instance, when the department of commerce and labor was created. The department was put into operation and run upon faith that the next legislature would make a proper appropriation to meet the necessary expenses incurred through the operation of the law. This the next legislature did."

Up to the State Board.
"The state board of health should put the vital statistics law in operation at least by the first of January, 1915, so that we will have statistics beginning the first of 1915. It will take a few months to get the department properly organized and ready for work, but this could be done easily by the first of the year."

"To do this will necessitate that the board of health incur expenses for salaries, office supplies, etc., which will require an appropriation by the next general assembly to cover. But the creation of such a department, under the direction of the state board of health, to gather vital statistics, obli-gates the state to make an appropriation at the next session of the general assembly. Judging the future by the past, this will be done without opposition on the part of the board of health."

"Georgia is the only state in the union not already gathering vital statistics, and I am sure the state board will take the necessary steps without delay to put Georgia in the front rank in health matters."

In answer referring to the state health law, Mr. Ellis said:

Death From Preventable Diseases.
"There are more than sixteen thousand deaths in Georgia every year from preventable diseases. About one person in every seven who dies succumbs to tuberculosis, and tuberculosis is a preventable disease, although almost an incurable one. Tuberculosis may be prevented by proper living, and the public health officer provided for will teach the people how to live so that they may not contract tuberculosis, and also teach those who have it to live so they will not spread the disease. They will thus cease to be, as now, a menace to the community in which they live."

"Massachusetts and other New England states have shown the death rate from tuberculosis so that it is now about one-third of what it was in 1880. This has been done by the laws similar to the public health bill just enacted by Georgia. The death rate from tuberculosis in 1880 was but little less now than it was in 1880. Typhoid fever and many other diseases are also easily prevented, and we can prevent these diseases, and we can, it is hardly less than a crime that we do not do so. The legislature has done its duty, and now it remains for the different communities to do theirs."

"Most people measure everything in dollars and cents. The public health bill, with the aid of the vital statistics law, which is a helper to the public health bill, is the greatest economic measure ever passed by a Georgia legislature. The only real wealth of any land consists in the people who inhabit it. Georgia is absolutely worthless without men to enjoy it."

"A man's health is to his community as much as the wealth he produces, and no more. The old saying that health is wealth is true. The sick man produces but little wealth, and the dead man none."

"By so much as you make a man strong and healthy, you increase his ability to produce wealth, and by so much as he is weakened by disease, his wealth-producing power is decreased. The average man does not pay the expense incurred in the rearing and educating him before he is thirty years old. Therefore, if the average man dies before he is thirty years of age, he has been an expense to the community, and the community is the poorer for his having lived."

"By lengthening the lives of our Georgia men and women, some of the best interests of the state are attributable to him."

M. L. BATES INJURED
WHEN A SWING FALLS

M. L. Bates, of 34 West Fourteenth street, is confined to his home with a broken collarbone as the result of a fall he suffered Sunday morning, when a porch swing in which he was sitting broke. Mr. Bates fell to the floor of the porch and then to the ground, a distance of some four feet.

While it is expected that Mr. Bates will recover from his injury, his physicians fear that his recovery may be slow on account of the fact that Mr. Bates is now in his seventy-sixth year.

False Signatures To Circular Attacking Alex. Stephens

TO THE PEOPLE OF GEORGIA:—

In reply to a circular attacking me in my campaign for Judge of Court of Appeals, which is being circulated over Georgia in the interest of the candidacy of Recorder Broyles, I submit the following:

"Atlanta, Ga., August 15, 1914.

"Our attention has been called to a circular, entitled 'A. W. Stephens' Record as a Lawyer; What His Home People Say About Him,' attacking Mr. Stephens' ability as a lawyer, etc., such charges purporting to be signed by us. We never signed said circular, nor authorized anyone to sign it for us. We did not make the charges contained in this circular against Mr. Stephens, nor do we endorse them. We did not sign nor authorize anyone to sign for us similar charges made in the campaign for Judge of the Superior Court in the campaign between Judge Pendleton and Mr. Stephens in 1912, nor at any other time. While in that campaign our names were published as members of Judge Pendleton's Campaign Committee, we did not sign or endorse the charges made against Mr. Stephens, nor do we do so now."

"This statement is made without qualifying our position in the campaign."

(Signed) "ROBT. C. ALSTON,
"H. L. CULBERSON,
"JAMES L. KEY,
"E. V. CARTER."

The lateness of this attack makes it impossible to secure the signatures of all the gentlemen whose names are falsely signed to this circular. The above is sufficient to show the character of the circular.

Respectfully,
ALEX. W. STEPHENS.

DR. DURHAM PREACHES
AT TRINITY CHURCH

New Dean of Methodist University Is Greeted by a Large Congregation.

Dr. Plato Durham, of North Carolina, who was recently selected by the educational commission of the Southern Methodist church to be dean of the theological department of the new university, filled the pulpit at Trinity church Sunday morning in the absence of Rev. Luke G. Johnson, the pastor.

Dr. Durham selected three periods in the life of Saint Paul as the basis of his text. He told of the conquest of Paul for Christ and the Gentile world, of his spiritual experiences and of his determination and ambition to know God. He then spoke of that period in the life of Paul which was marked by suffering and privation, during which time he was forced to fight not only for his life but for his mission. Dr. Durham vividly told of Paul's triumphant fight for the emancipation of the Christian world, and then told of Paul's old age, picturing him as the pathetic, yet most sublime, figure of the age.

Paul's period, or some of sainthood, was next dwelt on by the minister. He said that with Paul's temperament, his wonderful faith in God, and his loyalty to the mission of his life, it would be an easy matter for some men to emerge into sainthood. He pointed to the fact that Saint Francis was born a saint.

Dr. Durham drew several striking illustrations to prove that the existence of God is not merely a theological reasoning, but an absolute fact, and he pointed out that Paul's mission, expressed in his own words—"That I may know God"—proved that fact.

Dr. Durham is in Atlanta in response to a summons from Bishop Candler, chancellor of the new Methodist university. Just what Dr. Durham's call to Atlanta has to do with the university has not been made known, but it is believed to be in connection with the theological department which will soon throw open its doors.

A. W. EVANS ADDRESSES

Thomson, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—A. W. Evans, candidate for congress, spoke here Saturday to a large crowd on the Knox hotel lawn. Close attention was given Colonel Evans during the course of his speech, and his position as a candidate for congress, land banks and rural credits met with favor. Colonel Evans left here for Grovetown, where he spoke to a good crowd later in the afternoon.

Dr. L. G. Hardman's Record Does

Dr. Hardman is fortunate in that he is not forced to carry the burden of a legislative record opposed to the interests of the people.

He is fortunate again in that his position on all moral questions, including prohibition and law enforcement, is clear and to the point. He does not leave the public in doubt.

He is fortunate in having no bad environment. The corporations and politicians have no strings on him. When he is elected Governor he will be the people's Governor, and there will be no side door for the favored few to slide in and out, while the common people are entertained in the waiting room by his secretary.

He is fortunate in that all men acknowledge his ability, his high character, his aggressive statesmanship and his proven devotion to the interests of the people.

He is fortunate in that he has proven his executive ability and business ability, and that every man who knows him says of him: "He will make an excellent Governor."

Dr. Hardman is not the candidate of any class. He is the candidate of the masses. Being himself a Doctor, farmer, banker, manufacturer, and man of the people, he is in sympathy with the people, he is familiar with the business of the state and the problems confronting us.

You are invited to hear Dr. Hardman speak at the Forsyth Theater Tuesday night. He has a message for you. Ladies are invited.

LOVER AND EX-HUSBAND BURY MURDERED WOMAN

Cheney and Wright Under the Same Roof—Negro Silent About Motive.

Spring Green, Wis., August 16.—The murder yesterday of Mamah Bouton Borthwick, her children, John and Martha Cheney, and two others by Julien Carleton, an infuriated negro, brought together here today her former husband, Edwin H. Cheney, and the man for whom she left him, Frank Lloyd Wright, the wealthy Chicago architect.

Cheney and Wright spent the day under the same roof, but almost without speaking. They were guests at the home of Andrew T. Porter, whose wife is Wright's sister-in-law, and who came to take charge of the body of the former Mrs. Cheney. Cheney's mission was to claim the bodies of the children, who had lived with their mother in Wright's luxurious Spring Green bungalow since their father's death and remarriage.

Wright decided on an immediate burial of Mrs. Borthwick's body, and this evening, submerged in a mass of flowers picked from the bungalow garden, and attended only by Wright, his son and two relatives, the body was removed to the Wright lot in Unity cemetery, near the bungalow. There was no ceremony.

Thomas Brunker, a laborer on the Wright estate, who last night was reported having fled from his wounds, is still living tonight. The motive actuating Carleton, the negro chef, in his murder of Mrs. Borthwick, is a mystery. The negro remarked to a deputy sheriff immediately after his arrest and when he feared death by poison die.

"I'll tell you why I did it before I die."

Later when physicians told him he was in no danger of death, the negro said:

"I did it in self-defense."

This statement was given no credence by authorities at Dodgeville, where Carleton was placed in jail. It is believed that the motive for the discharge of his wife and himself.

ROME WILL NAME ITS NEW HOSPITAL FOR MRS. WILSON

Rome, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The general hospital which the people of Floyd county are planning to build will be known as the Ellen Axson Wilson hospital. This change in the name of the hospital was decided on by the governing board. The action was taken at the request of the Memorial association of the Wilson family, who are fitting that the institution which will mean so much to suffering humanity should bear the name of Mrs. Wilson, whose funeral took place here Tuesday.

At the meeting Friday the committee in charge decided to make an active campaign for public subscriptions, and to ask aid from the various city council and board of county commissioners. It is the opinion of those interested that the memorial of this nature will be more in accord with the wishes of the Wilson family, and with the ideas of Mrs. Wilson herself than anything else.

CAIRO BANKS TO TAKE COTTON CERTIFICATES

Thomsville, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The banks of Cairo have decided to follow the same plan as the banks of Thomsville in protecting the cotton growers and shippers from the cotton brokers. The Cairo Banking company, the Farmers and Merchants bank and the Citizens' bank have agreed to take warehouse certificates and allow about 6 cents per pound on all cotton stored with the banks, thus allowing absolutely any benefit from a rise in the cotton market.

SOUTHERN MERCHANTS TO MEET IN MEMPHIS

Memphis, Tenn., August 16.—More than a thousand southern business men are expected to attend the convention here of the Southern Merchants' Association, which will be in session August 18, 19 and 20. Trade conditions in the cotton belt are the order of the day, and special attention is being given to the marketing of the present cotton crop. The speakers will include several members of congress and representatives of the United States department of agriculture. The membership of the association includes merchants in Alabama, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas.

DR. G. B. SMITH HEADS ROTARIANS OF ROME

Rome, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The Rotary club of Rome was formally installed last night at a dinner at the Cherokee hotel. The president of the club was John E. Shelby, of Birmingham, vice president of the International Association of Rotary clubs. He was assisted by J. W. Hancock, of the Macon club, and a delegation from that club. The charter members number thirty, and the officers for the first year are: Dr. George B. Smith, president; J. W. McCarty, vice president; C. J. Wyatt, secretary; P. J. Mullen, treasurer; M. E. Lanier, sergeant-at-arms.

Butts Court Convened

Jackson, Ga., August 16.—(Special.)—The August term of Butts county superior court will be convened here Monday by Judge R. T. Daniel, and the session will last five days. No court will be held Wednesday on account of the primary, but Saturday will be spent in the trial of cases. Several murder cases are down on the criminal docket, and many minor criminal charges will be sifted during the week.
